

COVID-19: Interim additional arrangements for Child Protection and Safeguarding: Policy, Procedures & Guidance

In response to 8 March 2021 wider reopening of schools and updates to KCSIE -
January 2021 (Post EU Exit): this replaces earlier interim additional arrangements

Context

Back in Spring, of March 2020, parents/carers were asked to keep their children at home, wherever possible, and for schools to remain open only for those children of workers critical to the COVID-19 response - who absolutely need to attend. Schools and all childcare providers were also asked to provide care for a limited number of children - children who are vulnerable, and children whose parents/carers are critical to the COVID-19 response and cannot be safely cared for at home. In January 2021, similar 'lockdown' restrictions were introduced leading to further supplementary guidance. This latest supplement is issued in response to the return to school of all pupils announced on 22 February with updates from KCSIE 2021.

Prolonged absence from onsite school potentially presents an increased risk to children and vulnerable adults. Organisations such as the NSPCC and The Children's Society have highlighted the potential risks for children whose homes are not safe places. Contacts to Childline have significantly increased during lockdown periods.

Incidents of serious domestic violence and abuse appear to be increasing. This is of particular concern as the usual means of detecting and escaping from domestic abuse are limited during the lockdown and households may be under increased pressure. The police and other partners are aware of the increased risk and have made more resources available to prevent and respond to this threat.

The arrangements set out here are in addition to the normal safeguarding and child protection policy. It is important that, as far as possible, we continue to adhere to the good practice set out in the full policy.

Vulnerable children

Vulnerable children include those who have a social worker and those children and young people up to the age of 25 with education, health and care (EHC) plans. Those who have a social worker include children who have a Child Protection Plan and those who are looked after by the Local Authority. A child may also be deemed to be vulnerable if they have been assessed as being in need or otherwise meet the definition in section 17 of the Children Act 1989.

We will continue to work with and support children's social workers to help protect vulnerable children. This includes working with and supporting children's social workers and the local authority virtual school head (VSH) for looked-after and previously looked-after children.

It is possible that children deemed 'vulnerable' will face greater barriers to a full return to school. Monitoring their attendance and providing appropriate support to support their inclusion will mitigate this risk.

Attendance monitoring

From 8 March 2021 all pupils should begin their full return to school.

The usual arrangements will apply for parents/carers to report absences and to make schools aware of the status of any COVID-19 tests and to update the school on the welfare of the pupil.

We will record attendance in accordance with the Education (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2006 (as amended) for all pupils.

A small number of pupils will still be unable to attend in line with public health advice to self-isolate because they:

- have symptoms or have had a positive test result
- live with someone who has symptoms or has tested positive and are a household contact
- are a close contact of someone who has coronavirus (COVID-19)

The advice for pupils who have been formally confirmed as clinically extremely vulnerable is to shield and stay at home as much as possible until further notice. They are advised not to attend school while shielding advice applies nationally.

For children self-isolating or quarantining or shielding – we will use code X.

We will provide remote education to pupils who are unable to attend school because they are complying with government guidance or legislation around coronavirus (COVID-19).

Also, we will offer pastoral support to pupils who are:

- self-isolating
- shielding
- vulnerable (and off-school)

The Department for Education expects schools to grant applications for leave in exceptional circumstances. This should be recorded as code C (leave of absence authorised by the school) unless another authorised absence code is more applicable.

We will follow up on any pupil that we were expecting to attend who does not attend. In all circumstances where a child (and particularly those deemed 'vulnerable') does not return to school or discontinues (including electing to home educate) we will ensure that every effort is made to ensure the child is safe and will liaise with relevant partner agencies as appropriate.

We recognise that some parents/carers may be anxious about their children returning to school. Through the schools' well-established routines for controlling infection and risk assessments we will endeavour to reassure both parents/carers and children that school is a safe place for them. It is much better to work constructively with parents/carers to develop a strong relationship of trust that supports a decision for all children to return to school. However, warnings and penalties for non-attendance may be used as a last resort.

Designated Safeguarding Lead

The DSL and deputy will continue to maintain good contact with children's social care and other partner agencies. Using remote access where necessary they will contribute to relevant multi-agency discussions such as strategy meetings and reviews.

Personal Education Plans for children who are looked after will need to be considered and a discussion held with heads of the local virtual schools to see what would be most useful in supporting children and young people to be fully included and successful in their return to normal onsite school experiences.

Reporting a concern

The process of reporting concerns about a child or an adult are unchanged. Processes set out in the full policy apply. Where students are absent of having to shield/self-isolate do not delay raising concerns. Access to CPOMS has been possible throughout the lockdown period. Emergencies need to be reported to the police in the same way as normal.

Safeguarding training and induction for staff and those involved in governance

Safeguarding training may continue to be delivered in a COVID-19-secure way either virtually or – following a risk assessment – in person.

All existing school staff have had safeguarding training and have read part 1 of 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' (2020, updated in January 2021). The DSL should communicate with staff any new local arrangements, so they know what to do if they are worried about a child. It is worth reminding staff of any additional risks associated with school closure.

Where new staff are recruited, or new volunteers, they will continue to be provided with a safeguarding induction either virtually or in person as appropriate. If staff are deployed from another education or children's workforce setting to school, we will take into account the DfE supplementary guidance on safeguarding children during the COVID-19 pandemic and will accept DBS portability as long as the current employer confirms in writing that:

- the individual has been subject to an enhanced DBS and children's barred list check
- there are no known concerns about the individual's suitability to work with children
- there is no ongoing disciplinary investigation relating to that individual.

When new staff arrive, they will be given a copy of the St Agnes CE Primary Safeguarding and Child Protection policy, confirmation of local processes and confirmation of DSL arrangements. Where reference is made to 'staff' this includes all trainees and temporary appointments working in the schools.

Safer recruitment/volunteers and movement of staff

During times of emergency measures there are people who seek to exploit any gaps or relaxation in procedures. It is essential that people who are unsuitable are not allowed to enter the children's workforce or gain access to children.

When recruiting new staff, we will continue to follow the relevant safer recruitment processes set out in our policies including, as appropriate, relevant sections of Keeping Children Safe in Education (2020, updated Jan 21) (KCSIE).

In response to COVID-19, the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) has made changes to its guidance on standard and enhanced DBS ID checking to minimise the need for face-to-face contact. Where we are deploying volunteers, we will continue to follow the checking and risk assessment process as set out in KCSIE. Under no circumstances will a volunteer who has not been checked be left unsupervised or allowed to work in regulated activity. We will continue to follow the legal duty to refer to the DBS anyone who has harmed or poses a risk of harm to a child or vulnerable adult. Full details can be found from paragraph 183 – 188 of KCSIE (2020, updated Jan 21). We will continue to consider and make referrals to the Teaching Regulation Agency (TRA) as per paragraph 150 of KCSIE and the TRA's 'Teacher misconduct advice for making a referral'. During the COVID-19 period all referrals should be made by emailing: Misconduct.Teacher@education.gov.uk

Whilst acknowledging the challenge of the current restrictions, it is essential from a safeguarding perspective that any school is aware, on any given day, which staff/volunteers will be in the school and that appropriate checks have been carried out, especially for anyone engaging in regulated activity. As such, we will continue to keep the single central record (SCR) up to date as outlined in paragraphs 164 to 171 in KCSIE.

Online teaching and signposting to online materials/resources

Any teaching conducted virtually should adhere to the same high professional standards expected in all other contexts. We will need to ensure that any use of online learning tools and systems is in line with privacy and data protection/GDPR requirements.

Andrew Hall, safeguarding consultant, has offered the advice (below) for online lessons, especially if live webcams are used. As schools open more widely, the demand for online learning will reduce. However, as the need for some limited remote education continues, it may be necessary to review arrangements for making best use of technology to keep in touch with students and maintain a good link. Safe ways to do that include provision for students to access approved online resources or to have links to resources that the school has pre-recorded.

Specific considerations if online (live):

- No 1:1s, groups only
- Staff and children must wear suitable clothing, as should anyone else in the household.
- Any computers used should be in appropriate areas, for example, not in bedrooms; and the background should be blurred.
- The live class should be recorded so that if any issues were to arise, the video can be reviewed.
- Live classes should be kept to a reasonable length of time, or the streaming may prevent the family 'getting on' with their day.
- Language must be professional and appropriate, including any family members in the background.

- Staff must only use approved platforms to communicate with pupils, noting that Teams/Skype and Zoom in particular have improved their security and password access arrangements.
- Staff should record, the length, time, date and attendance of any sessions held.

Any safeguarding concerns observed or highlighted during any communication with students must be recorded and reported on CPOMS using the 'Safe and well' category.

Supporting children not in school

We are committed to ensuring the safety and wellbeing of all our children and young people. We expect a full return to school for all pupils from 8 March with the exception of a very small number who need to shield or those required to self-isolate. (see section on attendance, above)

Supporting children in school

With most children expected to return to learning on site, there may be an initial increase in causes for concern or referrals. Some children may be worried about returning in uniform/shoes that have become ill fitting. We will be sensitive to children's needs and concerns, balancing this with a desire to return to normal routines and expectations.

We will refer to the Government guidance for education and childcare settings on how to implement social distancing and continue to follow the advice from Public Health England on handwashing and other measures to limit the risk of spread of COVID19. Where a school has concerns about the impact of staff absence – such as the Designated Safeguarding Lead or first aiders – they will discuss the risk this presents with the SLT so that appropriate mitigation can be put in place.

Support for mental health and well-being

The significant societal changes that we are experiencing may have a negative impact on some people's mental and physical health and well-being. The pandemic has increased the risks of abuse and neglect, with children both more vulnerable and out of sight of people who can keep them safe.
