

What we already know:

Roald Dahl is an author.

He wrote lots of books.

We have read The Enormous Crocodile

People need water and food to be healthy.

Chocolate and sweets are not healthy.

In English we will write a new chapter for The Twits. We will also write letters and news reports based on the story.

In Art we will be inspired by the work of Anthony Gormley and will create our own sculptures.

In RE we will learn from the sacred books of different religions.

In Music we will listen to and appreciate friendship songs. We will learn to sing our own friendship song.

In Computing we will compose our own music using Purple Mash.

In History we will learn how the life of Roald Dahl was different to today. We will compare schools in the 1920s to today and think about how technology has changed in the past 100 years.

In Science we will learn about what humans need to be healthy. We will learn about hygiene and find out how to keep ourselves and our surroundings clean.

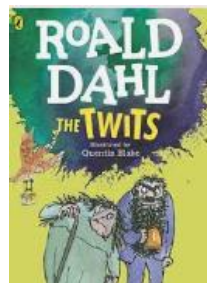

What we want to learn:

When did Roald Dahl live?

How did he write all his books?

What is sculpture?

Did Roald Dahl go to school?
