

- There are four seasons; Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter.
- It is coldest in Winter and hottest in Summer.
- The UK is a temperate country as it does not get very hot summers or very cold winters.

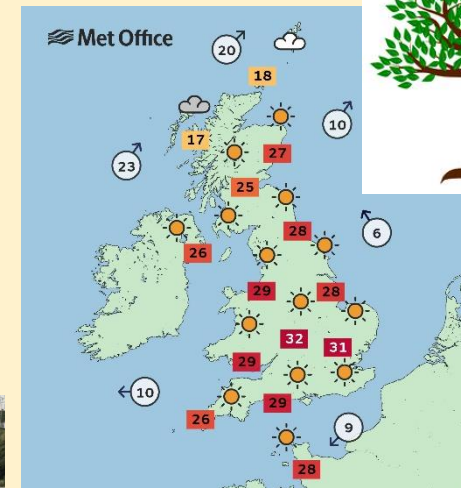

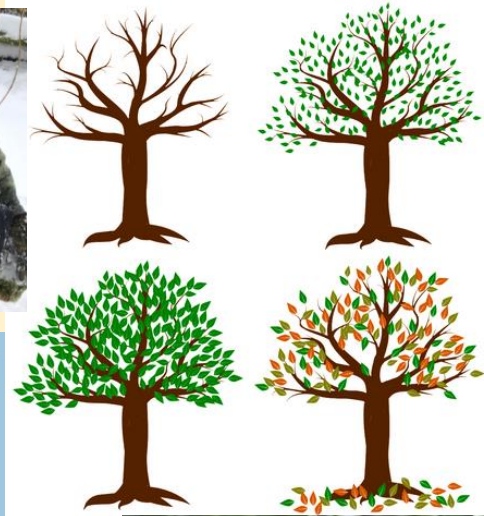

- We often see snow and ice in Winter and rain in Spring.
- These are called types of precipitation.
- We can measure temperature using a thermometer.

Wonderful Weather

- People wear warm clothes in Winter and less clothes in Summer to stay cool.
- People might go to the beach in Summer.
- People might build snowmen in Winter.

- A weather forecast predicts the weather.

- Hurricanes, tornadoes and floods are types of extreme weather.
- Extreme weather is rare in the UK as it is a temperate country.